ABOUT WASHINGTON ACADEMY

Washington Academy is an elite independent secondary school committed to the success of each of its local, national, and international students. Offering a comprehensive program of academics and arts, Washington Academy strives to create opportunities that will equip students socially and intellectually for their future endeavors and prepare them to become productive members of society.

Washington Academy launched the online learning program that enables millions of students, both locally and internationally to learn wherever they are with the standardized curriculum from Grade 7 to Grade 12. Washington Academy Online High School has the same qualifications as traditional high schools with accreditations from three major educational institutions includes NEASC, ADVANCED-ED, CISA. Students can use online learning to take classes synchronously with local students in Washington Academy and complete courses approved by the U.S. Department of Education to obtain credits. After passing the exams, students will obtain the same high school diploma as regular high school graduates which are recognized nationwide in the United States.

CLASS FORMATS

Washington Academy Online School is committed to providing a top online learning platform for students from all over the world and to help students complete the American middle school credit/diploma standards in a free, vivid and multicultural environment. Students can choose a single subject or a high school degree to earn American high school credits. The entire network of teaching is in line with the core standardized curriculum of American high schools and the school is qualified to issue an American high school diploma (certificates and diploma recognized by all American high schools and universities). Parents, schools, and the teaching system have triple supervision and management including course selection, schedule control, online homework, online test, online discussion, complete functions and easier operation.

Washington Academy Online courses are rich in content and diverse in forms. Live courses cover grades 9-12 and recorded courses cover grades 7-12. Courses include English, mathematics, science, social science, art, and other subjects.

01

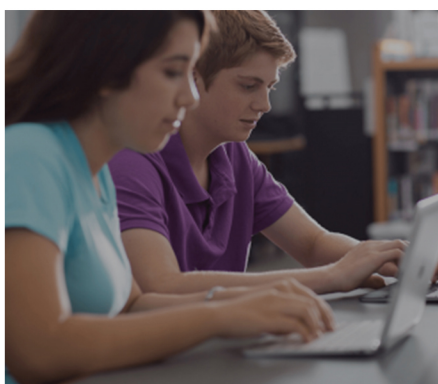

VIP 1 to 1 Live course

Customized courses can better target the learning of each student and provide more learning and practice opportunities for students. Personalized courses also help to understand all aspects of learning for students in the shortest time, provide direct and accurate course services.

02

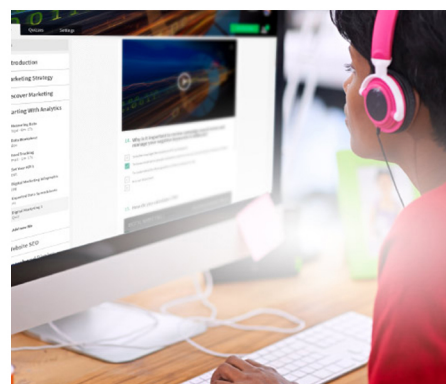

Multi-students Live courses

With a maximum of 25 students in the live class, the instructor can provide timely support to better stimulate face-to-face teaching and learning using multi-media interactive teaching. The small size class also promotes better communications and mutual learning between students at home and abroad.

03

Self-paced courses

Self-paced learning has significance for cultivating students' self-learning management and ability. With the help of multi shared teaching resources, students can independently arrange learning time and review each section. In the first breakthrough learning mode, students can enter the next chapter after completing the learning content of the previous chapter to making learning more fluent. At the same time, students can still have discussions and communicate with American teachers and students from all over the world through online platforms.
